Dear Mr. Smith:

We enclose, herewithin, check for $11.27 for royalties on lot 18910 shipped 6-5-58 unpaid balance on royalty. Your final report on July 21, 1958 states that about 9 flasks on 30 tons have been produced. There is some mistake here as this pile was out in front in a dump and with their assays they estimated there would be 9 flasks in it.

We have sold our lease in this property and can not say if they have milled this 30 ton as they have been shut down.

Yours truly,

(signed) C. A. Coppin

Dear Mr. Coppin:

This will confirm Mr. Glenn G. Gentry's oral request of May 4, 1959, made to you and Mr. L. A. Young, for the balance of royalty due the Government under the terms of Exploration Contract Idm-E 838. The production on which royalty is due is specified in Mr. Ricker's letter of February 5, 1959.

There is evidently some question as to who mined the ore on which the royalty is due, but under the terms of the contract (Article 7b), the Operator is responsible for their payment regardless of who is the producer.

In view of the extreme delay already and the small amount involved, please send us promptly your check for $11.27 which will bring the account up to date. Please send the check payable to Office of Minerals Exploration to this office.

Very truly yours,

In an endeavor to collect unpaid royalties due the Government from production of ores from the referenced contract, the writer conferred with Mr. Llewellyn Young, Attorney at Law, and Mr. C. A. Coppin in Lovelock, Nevada on May 4, 1959.

Mr. Young, addressed at 340 Main Street, Lovelock, Nevada, owns one-half interest in the Redbird and Redbird No. 1 mining claims, which are pertinent to the contract , and also represents the other owners.

Contract No. Ism-2 819

In an endeavor to collect unpaid royalties due the Government from production of ores from the referenced contract, the writer conferred with Mr. Llewellyn Young, Attorney at Law, and Mr. C. A. Coppin in Lovelock, Nevada on May 4, 1959.

Mr. Young, addressed at 340 Main Street, Lovelock, Nevada, owns one-half interest in the Redhill and Redhill No. 1 mining claims, which are pertinent to the contract, and also represents the other owner.

The present status of production and royalty payments follows:

With reference to the flask of Quicksilver sold as of June 5, 1957, Lot 18910, Mr. Coppin stated he thought this production had been made by the Minerals Exploration Company. Mr. Rush Meadows, Executive Officer of this company, was not available for interview.

Relative to the reported production of nine flasks of quicksilver mentioned in the DMEA Final Report of July 21, 1958, Mr. Young had no information on the subject and Mr. Coppin advised that all of his records were at his residence in Salt Lake City, Utah. While Mr. Coppin could give no definite details, he believed this production was made in part by himself and in part by Minerals Exploration Company, who acquired the mining lease on July 5, 1958.

Mr. Coppin was again requested to furnish the Executive Officer of OME with a definite and detailed record of production and promptly remit all royalty payments due the Government.

Mr. Coppin reports that all quicksilver produced had been sold to the Quicksilver Products, Inc., 407 Sansome Street, San Francisco, California. Probably Mr. George Mavor, OME Auditor, can obtain additional information from that firm.

Also, Mr. Coppin stated that Minerals Exploration Company were trying to sell their lease to an eastern group of investors and that a part of any sales agreement would be payment of all royalty due the Government by the purchaser.

I, therefore, recommend a letter from the Executive Officer, OME, to Mr. C. A. Coppin, with a copy to Mr. Llewellyn Young, requesting immediate clarification of production and payment of royalty due the Government.
